Resume

Projects

- 2015 No Kicker, Ruby fantasy football app with Backbone.js, nokicker.co - github.
 - Uses RosterSlot and PlayerContracts tables to relate players to teams in different but interrelated ways.
 - Fetches and parses deeply nested data structures by using jBuilder and overriding the parse method in backbone.
 - Wrote custom SQL queries to retrieve data across many tables.
 - Allows users to dynamically search the pool of players by name and position, immediately filtering players without the need for a refresh.
- 2015 Orbit Game, JavaScript project, link - github.
 - Operates on a realistic model for gravitation following the law of inverse squares.
 - Offers sandbox and level modes.
 - Scales objects in levels so that they remain the same across screen sizes.
- 2015 Rails Lite, simplified version of Rails, github.
 - Implements many of the features made available by rails, such as parameter parsing, and custom route creation.
 - Uses custom SqlObject class, that replicates insert, save, update, where methods similarly to ActiveRecord, as well as relational functionality.
- 2014 Voting Behavior Survey, lab experiment written in z-Tree.
 - Allows players to interact in a game designed to gather data and test contemporary theory about economically motivated political behavior.
 - Acquired funding to pay participants based on their actions in the game.
 - Carried out the experiment and gathered data from a group of 60 University of Hamburg students
